HOW TO SETTLE LONG DISTANCE CHAMPIONSHIP HONORS.

Let Africander and Stalwart Meet Beldame at Two Miles and a Quarter, Weight for Age-Trouble Predicted Over Request for Dates at Morris Park Next Year.

There can be no doubt about the popularity of long distance races. The public has enthused over all events of this kind run here this season, which would seem to indicate that the various racing associations should provide in future an increase in this branch of the sport. The running of the Annual Champion and Brighton Cup, each at two miles and a quarter, caused intense public interest even though the fields were not large, and both winners, Stalwart and Africander. respectively, were hailed as champions, the former the best three-year-old colt, the latter the best of the older division. A meeting therefore, between Stalwart and Africande weight for age, at two miles and a quarte to decide the long distance championshi of the year, would arouse wonderful interes It might be arranged as a special swee stakes, the Brooklyn Jockey Club to han up a suitable purse and the race to be rui before the end of the Gravesend meeting E. R. Thomas, the owner of Stalwart, believe he has a world beater in the Meddler co. at long distances, and might consent to match of this kind under favorable circum stances. Sim Deimel, the owner of Africa der, is a sportsman who is always ready t race. Under Frank Weir's clever handlin Africander has regained much of his wo derful form of a year ago, when he won mo than $70,000 in stakes and disputed the three year-old laurels with Irish Lad. If he an Stalwart should come together, the African der people would be willing, no doubt, to be heavily on the result. If Bennington could be induced to start Beldame, who showe marked ability at long distance racing who he beat Africander in the race for the Sar toga Cup, the interest would be doubly i creased. In a sweepstakes with Stalwa and Africander, Beldame would have a chanto further increase the belief in some quanters that she is the greatest race mare the country has ever seen.

Last year there was no doubt about Wate boy's title. He was the real champion o m all. The three-year-old honors we divided between Africander and Irish Lac while Highball and Hamburg Belle wer the best of the two-year-olds. This yea with Irish Lad, Waterboy and Hermis retirement Africander takes Waterboy place among the old horses because of his clean cut, fair, square defeat of McChesney in the Brighton Cup. Beldame is entitled to all the three-year-old honors, Stalwart, Ort Wells, Broomstick and Delhi having been summarily disposed of. Had Bryn Mawr been able to race all the year, it is thought by some that he would have been disputing matters with Beldame at the present time, for he gave every evidence of being a successful three-year-old, but was laid on the shelf behe went slightly wrong early in the

As to the contest for two-year-old honors there is no chance to take away the title of "champion filly" from Sydney Paget's Tradi-This remarkable daughter of Gold-Reclare has done all that has been asked of her. She has carried big weight and has beaten the best colt, Sysonby, in a race, finishing second to his third in the Fu-turity She has won both the Flatbush Stakes and the Great Eastern Handicap, and s considered the greatest filly of her age that has ever been seen on an American race course. Artful, the winner of the Futurity, and the Great Filly Stakes, has not been put second place in the rating. She has been forced to decline several meetings with Tradition, so that she cannot receive the same amount of praise, especially as she beat Tradition in the Futurity with a pronounced pull in the weights. Sysonby is still regarded as the best two-year-old colt, despite his unexpected defeat in the Futurity. He did not run again until he won the J mior Champion Stakes last Monday in a gallop. The proposed sweepstakes for this trio is the talk of the turf.

Morris Park will reopen its gates, perhaps for the last time, next Monday. The work on Belmont Park is progressing rapidly and it is positively stated that this new and magnificent racecourse, the finest in the world, will be ready for a spring meeting next year. When the dates are allotted the Jockey Club will, it is said, give Belmont Park an assignment that will be as large if not larger than the one usually enjoyed by the Westchester track. With this fact assured, naturally the question arises, "Will Morris Park re-ceive dates from the Jockey Club for the usual spring and fall meetings?"

has been conducting the sport at Morris Park for several years, will not extend its lease, but will move, bag and baggage, to Belmont Park, of which it will assume the manage-ment. Then who will conduct racing at Morris Park, if there is any? This question has been partially answered with the state-ment that Alfred Hennen Morris and his brother David will apply to the State Racing Commission for a license to run Morris Park themselves and will then further apply to the Jockey Club for dates. If license and dates are not forthcoming, there will be trouble, some of the wise men predict, but this is a problem rather difficult of solution, inasmuch as the State Racing Commission has absolute authority under the law to grant or refuse licenses to racetracks in this State. From what can be learned, it may be said high up in the councils of the turf and the Messrs. Morris, and that men posted as to the inside working of the racing machinery are willing to wager now that there will be no more racing at Westchester after this fall unless a meeting is conducted there in defiance of the Jockey Club and the State Racing Commission, which would be a propoentailing much trouble and expense, with the possible result that the whole racing

The $15,000 Hindoo Stakes, for three-year olds at one mile and three-quarters, will be run at Gravesend to-morrow. Broomstick Bryn Mawr, Delhi and Stalwart are all eligible. On Wednesday the Holly Handican, for twoyear-olds at six furlongs, will be decided, the field to be made up, probably, from such good ones as Artful, Princess Rupert, Wild Mint, Broadcloth, Oiseau, Woodsaw, Tea-cress, Jack Lory, Flyback, Gamara, Hand-zarra and St. Bellane. The Ocean View Handicap, for three-year-olds at a mile and a six-teenth, is down for Thursday, with Beldame, Hamburg Belle, Stalwart, Dolly Spanker, Ostrich and Graziallo possible The Sesbreeze Stakes, for threeyear-olds at the same distance, will be decided on Friday with a good field.

Although she is eligible for the Oriental Handicap for all ages at a mile and a quarter, Beldame will not be a starter, according to Newton Bennington, who has been controlling the great mare's engagements all season. Beldame has shown such marked superiority over all sorts of horses this year that Bennington probably feels that Handi-capper Vosburgh may ask too much of the daughter of Octagon in the Oriental, which will be run on Saturday. Bennington has already stated that Beldame will not race again this season unless it shall be in an overnight engagement at Morris Park. With Beldame out of it, the Oriental should still prove to be the star feature of the week's programme of stake events, as Stalwart. The Picket, Africander, McChesney, Caugh-nawaga, Colonial Girl, Gunfire, Proper, Dainty, Eugenia Burch, Hurst Park, De-kaber, Lord of the Vale, Graziallo, Bad News, dursbourne and First Mason are all able to go to the post. Could Beldame meet this bunch weight for age, it is probable that she would trim them with the same case shown in all her victorious races. But a handicap is a far different proposition.

TO-DAY'S CARD FOR GRAVESEND. Speculation Stakes and Two Handleaps the Particular Features.

for to-day. Proceeds, on his last race, will probably be in decided favor, with De Reszke, Andrew Mack and New York also to be reck-oned with. Another interesting event is a handicap for mares at a mile and a sixteenth, in pounds, though the three-year-old Outcome carries the heaviest burden according to the scale. Mineola and Graceful are both well weighted, while Hoodwink, with only 100 pounds, has a chance. The first race for twoyear-olds at about six furlongs, will prob-ably bring together Burnt Hills, Cairngorm ably bring together Burnt Hills, Csirngorm, Blandy, Bedouin, Hot Shot and Blucher, all fleet youngsters. Headmaster, Flying Buttress, Amur and Paulaker are the best in the steeplechase. For the fifth event, at a mile and an eighth, Canteen, keynote, keveille and Eagle are well up in the figures. So is Stolen Moments, If her last performance is thrown out. The last race, a handleap for three-year-olds, at about six furlongs, is attractive, as Lady Amelia must pack 135 pounds and meet such good sprinters as Ancestor, Major Pelham, Auditor, Gold Saint, Collector, Lessup, Minecke and Greenage.

NOT WITH MINOR LEAGUES. But Brush in His Statement Says Nothing

About American League. John T. Brush of the New York National League Baseball Club issued a statement yesterday. Among other things it contained: One of the purposes of the National League, according to the constitution, is to establish and regulate the professional baseball championship of the United States. There is nothing in the constitution or playing rules of the National League which requires its victorious club to submit its championship honors to a contest with a victorious club of a minor league. There may be those who think the winner in the Eastern or the Southern or some other league is superior to the winner in the National. That is their privilege to so believe, and there can be no criticism for such opin ins. but that furnishes no reason why the champion club of the National and abould enter into a contest with them. The club that wins from the clubs that represent the clites of Buston, Brooklyn, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, the eight largest and most important cities in America, in a series of 154 games, is entitled to the honor of champions of the United States, without being called upon to contead with or recognize clubs from minor league towns. Neither the players nor the manager of the Ganta nor myself desires any greater glory than to with the pennant in the National League. That is the greatest honor that can be obtained in baseball. One of the purposes of the National League.

tion of 381,768 to 321,616 for Pittsburg and 325,902 for Cincinnati. So much for the eight largest cities." But all that aside, while neither Brush nor McGraw nor his players desire any greater glory than to win the pennant in the National League, but so thousands of patrons of the game. They want to have it shown to them on the field which is the stronger team, the New York-Nationals or the American League champions.

Good Jumping by Louis Mang at Mohawk

He succeeded in clearing the fine distance of 35 feet 10 inches. This is an jumps. He succeeded in clearing the fine distance of 35 feet 10 inches. This is an inch and a quarter better than the previous record made by Ray C. Ewry of the New York A. C. at Celtic Park on Sept. 7, 1903. It also eclipses the record of 85 feet 6 inches, made with weights, by W. Lawton at San Francisco, on May 13, 1836. The world's record with weights, however, is 38 feet 3 inches by H. Courtney of Ireland in 1899. It has not been stated that the tape measure was correct and that the ground was perfectly level. The fact that the competition was not an open one will in any event prevent the A. A. U. from recognizing the record.

OILING AUTO CUP COURSE. 90,000 Gallons Required to Obviate Danger of Accidents From Dust.

That there may be no accidents from dust, the chief danger in such contests, to the competitors in the international race for the W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., cup, on Long Island on Oct. 8, ciling of the course has already begun. The twenty-three mile circuit will be twice treated with oil, which is being done by sprinkling carts. purpose.

The receipts from entrance fees and grandstand proceeds will not cover the cost of running the race, which is estimated at $18,000.
Accordingly a subscription fund has been

CYCLIST ON THE RAMPAGE. Negro Rider at Vallsburg Seeks Ven geance With an Iron Bar.

Yesterday's proceedings at the Vallsburg cycle track were a mixture of Donnybrook Fair and a farewell performance of a theatri cal stock company in a small city. There were "presentations" to the spectators and the day altogether was a lively one. Marcus L. Hurley, the Columbia student, who recently won the world's amateur sprinting championship in London: Iver Lawson of Salt Lake City, winner of the world's professional short distance honors at the same meet, and Oscar Goerke of the National Athletic Club of Goerke of the National Athletic Club of Brooklyn, who was also a competitor in London races, were at Vallsburg. Goerke being the only one to don his racing clothes. Eramer said he would not ride if the same man was referee again, and the management refused to be dictated to, and so the cham-pion did not race, nor did Fenn, his team nate. Kramer was brought out and introjuced as the American champion, and then there were cries for Fenn, but he had gone

The Donnybrook Fair part of the programme was furnished by "Major Taylor"
Dove, the negro amateur racer. He was racing side by side with Rupprecht on the backstretch as the fifth mile of the ten mile amateur handicap was being finished, when he was seen to fall after a slight collision with Rupprecht. Dove lay prostrate on the track, with his elbows over his head to protect it in case any of the others ran into him, until all of the competitors had passed him, when he jumped to his feet and into him, until all of the competitors had passed him, when he jumped to his feet and ran back toward approaching riders. He had thrown his bicycle to one side, but was waiting until Rupprecht came around again, with the avowed intention of pulling him oif his machine. One of the trainers who was on the backstretch tried to stop Dove, but the angry negro dodged to one side and continued to run along the track.

Another trainer, fleeter of foot than his fellow, tackled Dove in football style and pulled him off the track to the grass in the inclosure. The pair struggled until two policemen came and took Dove to the training quarters. Dove was bleeding from cuts on his arms and head and said the trainer had kicked him in the head after he had knocked him down. So Dove secured an iron bar, two feet long and an inch thick, and announced his intention of annihilating the man who had pulled him off the track. Some one took the Iron bar away frem him before he could do any mischief with it, but he ran into the inclosure, seeking the trainer, with two Valisburg cops in short winded pursuit. Dove ran up to the trainer and began to abuse him, but before he had time to finish his oration, he was in the clutches of the policemen. He was again taken to the training quarters, and when he refused to be pacified, he was removed to the borough lock-up.

YALE COACHES WORRYING OVER THE SECOND TEAM.

Good Substitutes Scarce-Four Elevens on the Princeton Gridiron-The Outlook at Fordham-Cornell Needs Heavy Line Men-Practice at Harvard.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 25.—Forty men com-pose the squad from which Yale has to draw her eleven this fall. What material will be brought out when the call is issued after college opens is, of course, an unknown quantity, but careful canvass of the entering classes has failed to disclose more than two or three men of size who might be used to advantage in the squad. Just now the college team is giving the coaches fully as much worry as is the 'varsity. The coaches realize that no matter how good may be their best eleven men, they cannot be properly developed without a college team of nearly equal ability or strong enough physically to offer resistance that will give the 'varsity men the practice necessary in daily development. Yale feels that she can put into the field this fall eleven good men. She certainly can pick eleven men who physically are 'varsity stock. injuries late in the season to a 'varsity man will, from present indications, be a big ob-stacle in the way of gaining the championship.
The lack of candidates has created a serious discussion among the athletic leaders as to the advisability of calling on the crew men to come out. This proposition is viewed with fear and trembling by Coach Kennedy of the crew. Football playing is the bane of crew coaches. It is likely, however, that Kennedy's wishes in the matter will be disregarded and the crew men asked to help out the football team. There are two or three crew men who would make good material for the football squad. A noticeable feature of the system followed by the coaches this fall is the pains taken to find the position to which each man is best adapted. Men who have always played the same position for past seasons, are now being put into other places, and the result is that several have shown themselves to be quite as well adapted to playing new positions as the ones they have before filled. A noticeable illustration of this is in the case of Johnny Owsiey. This year he is being tried out at quarter and is a distinct success. Among the line candidates Capt. Hogan, Tripp, Bloomer, Kinney and Roraback seem likely at present to fill the five centre places. The end places are open. Gates, captain of Andover two years ago, where he played tackle, is a coming candidate for an end place. He is speedy and quick to take advantage of an opening. For the other end Shevlin, flare and Stillman are the only men whose powers are at all known. Lawrence, Andrews, Kincon, Turner, P. White and Stevens are line candidates who will present substantial claims, but with the exception of Kineon all are somewhat smaller than the men who have played in Yale's line for some years past. There is a considerable assortment of men out for the back field. Quill, the old Amherst player, is the man who at present seems likely to get a place. Roome is a good punter and reminds one of Metcalf, Yale's star lightweight half back. He is about the same height as Metcalf and much the same build. He promises to give Bowman a rub at punting.

The Yale team has lost its star punter for the season in the withdrawal of Morgan Bowman. It has just been learned that the injury did not readily improve an \(\text{A-ray} picture taken showed an injured bone. Water on the knee is the latest development in the case of Lawrence, who dislocated his right knee last week.

Princeton methods are being employed on the Fordham footbail squad, and Coach hmith promises to turn out a good team. Gonzalez, the 240 pound centre, will not return to college. His place will be hard to fill. A promising new man is Fitspatrick, weighing 215 pounds. McGee and C Malley, ends, are playing well, and will make the team. Capt. Glenon, who will play centre and Gargan, quarter back, are sure of positions. The back field will be made up from Brennan, '05: Murray, '05: Sweeney, '05: and Rodriguez, '06. Leading candidates for the lineare Barry, '06: Fallen, '06: Conlon, '06, and Norton, '07. Manager McNally is arranging a game with Holy Cross, to be played in Worcester the last of October.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 25.—The Harvard squad had but a single practice yesterday, the afternoon work being omitted to give the men a chance to get away over bunday. To-morrow the training table will begin, the first scrimmage held, and the work transferred from the practice field to the 'varsity gridiron. Gring, the pole vaulter, who has been a candidate for, the back field, has gone to California, where he will work for a year. The men who go to the traising table are: Hurley, Meier, Mills, Noyes, Guild, McFaden, Wilder, Squires, Montgomery, Nesmith, Means and Cunniff.

With only ten days before the Amherst game, Coach Saunders has pienty of work cut out for him with the New York University squad. The remaining stragglers and a big delegation from the freehman class are due to-day. Chief among the old men are big "Bill" Coe, the 240 pound guard; Hulsart, last year's quarter, and Callahan, the big tackle from the medical school. Among the new men are Bryant, a 200-pounder from Morris High School, and Mapleston, who played guard with the Boys High School jast year. The hardest job Coach Saunders has before him is to develop men to fill right tack e and right guard.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Chicago beat Law-rence University's team on Marshall Field yesterday afternoon by the score of 29 to 0. The game was slow and the showing of the Marcon candidates generally disappointing.

ITEACA. Sept. 25.—Heavy rain did not keep the Cornell football squad from a long practice yesterday. The whole afternoon was devoted to signal practice and the development of several new formations which Coach Warner is teaching his men. Both elevens continue to improve to the satisfaction of the coaches, but the crying need continues to be heavy men for the line positions. If this week does not bring better results from the entering class a complete canvass will be made of the students on the hill and every possible man corralled on Percy Field. BLOOMFIFLD, N. CMAMA, Sept. 25.—By winning a double header from St. Joseph to day, the Omaha Western League team won the championship.

Pitcher Wicker of Chicago has twice pitched one hit games in Greater New York this year. In a weive inning game on June II he let the New Yorks down with one hit, and there were experts who say he should have credit for a no-hit game against Brooklyn last Saturday, that the hit credited to brooklyn was really an error.

It takes time to learn how to play the angles of Burkeville at the Polo Grounds. Donlin made a commendable effort to take Heaumont's hit on the fly last Saturday when he ran in, but had he been as expert at the angles as Mertes is he would probably have confined the hit to a three bagger.

Jack Chesbro has one record of thirteen straight victories this year, and his present record is seven with Washington last week, which New York won and in which Chesbro relieved Orth with the score a tic.
